TENNIS

Undefeated but tied once was the season's record after Wheaton's tennis team had sliced its way through ten matches last spring, marking the first schedule without defeat in the history of the school.

Bolstered by the addition of light-legged freshman Warren Kent, the squad took nine victories, and veteran Howard Fischer marched into the finals of the state meet, the Moffett brothers being eliminated in the first round by the ultimate winners, Armour tied our racket-wielders in the only other match. The Crusaders later invaded the Tech court, returning with a 5-1 vindication. Previous to the state meet, Fischer had qualified by taking singles honors in the district tournament with the Moffett brothers easily annexing the doubles title.

Playing his slice game to near-perfection Howard Fischer did much to bring the season's victories to the highest in years. He captained the team last spring, his third year on the varsity, dropping only one match during the ten encounters.

From far off Korea come the Moffett brothers, Sam and Howard, to add their powerful drives and fast hard play. Pairing off in the doubles, the brothers, with their power and speed of play, drove each one of their opponents to defeat.

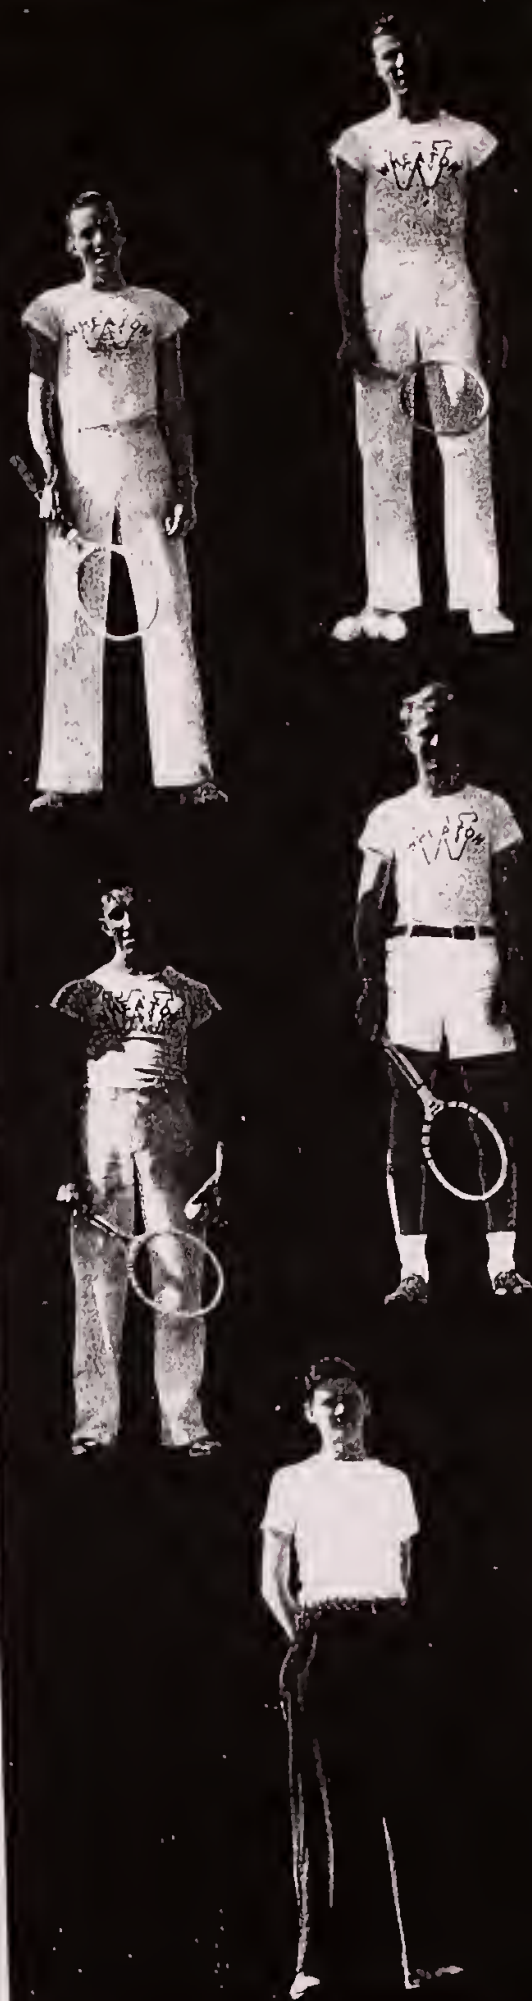

Off to a good start, the Orange and Blue traveled to Elmhurst and trounced the Buccaneers in the first play of the season, 6-0. Adding humiliation to defeat, they turned in a similar score when they played host to the same team a few weeks later.

An additional whitewashing was administered to Eureka on the home courts in the third battle of the season, when the Crusaders again made a clean sweep of all the matches. When the two opponents met again, Kent alone was defeated, giving Wheaton a 5-1 win.

George Williams succumbed easily to the Wheaton strokers on two occasions. The first ended 5-1. An early rain dampened the prospects of another such victory, for when play was halted, the Crusaders were leading 3-1.

Proving to be the most threatening foe, Armour Tech of Chicago marred an otherwise perfect record when they forced the Wheaton netters to a 3-3 tie. When next the battlefield was set, Armour was given its death blow, the Crusaders returning home with 5 victories against one defeat.

Crusaders' Annual Invasion
Brings Versatile Squad
Onto Field

Following many weeks of hard training, Coach James McKellin has come to a decision as to who will compose the Wheaton College soccer squad that will invade the East starting Wednesday. Last year a similar trip was made with the hope that it might become an annual event. Their brand of playing was so outstanding that many of the opposing schools requested a place on this year's schedule.

Foreign Representation

As has been true in the past, this year's roster gets more than half of its strength from foreign countries. Out of the squad of seventeen making the trip nine hail from outside the States. Topping the list is Howard Moffett from Korea. This is Moffett's fourth year as a member of the Orange and Blue and he has been the main offensive threat. The record on the eastern trip might have been better had not Moffett been over taken by an attack of appendicitis a short time before the first game, necessitating an operation. Joe Schoonmaker of India is also a familiar booter with a powerful drive. Other foreigners include Paul Fried, Palestine; Don Moore, Egypt; Tom Parks and Bruce Linton from Canada; Brad Stainer, India; Bob Moseley, China; and Sandy Campbell from Korea.

Pennsylvania Gives Two

By his outstanding play at the defensive full back position, Parker Woolmington has earned the privilege of captaining this year's aggregation. Woolmington comes from Narbeth, Pa., where he received his training becoming an outstanding player in high school. This is Park's third year with the booters, having played football in his freshman year. Ed McCausland, also from Pennsylvania, is another veteran that has garnered many points with his offensive play. The other contributions by the United States that complete the squad are James Young, Ferdinand Pauls, Bob Lewis, Al Carlton, Bill Hakes, and Jim Webster.

Hold Sunday Service

Leaving Wheaton tomorrow, the booters will encounter Oberlin college Thursday afternoon. Friday will be used for traveling with an engagement Saturday at Slippery Rock, Pa., with the Slippery Rock State Teachers. Sunday will find the squad forming a gospel team, taking charge of the church service in Woolmington's home church at Narbeth, Pa. Monday will find them at Westchester State Teachers, Wednesday a tough foe will be found in Western Maryland university. On Thanksgiving day Franklin and Marshall will play host to the Orange and Blue. The final tilt will be on Friday with Howard university, Washington, D. C.

not very exact, but gives you a general idea of the place. It's even more than this rough drawing indicates.

FOR GIRLS

Program

FALL AND WINTER

SATURDAYS!!!

Something new girls -- count on spending your Saturdays at the "Y" -- for fun and frolic from 9:00 'till noon.. Play in the pool, the gym, and in your clubs with old and new friends.

And once a month there'll be real parties:

- | | |
|------------------------|-------------------------|
| Oct. 12 - Round Up | Feb. 11 - Valentine's |
| Nov. 19 - Thanksgiving | Mar. 15 - St. Patrick's |
| Dec. 21 - Christmas | Apr. 8 - Easter |
| Jan. 1 - Open House | May 27 - Festival |

---*---

Learn to dance, to swim, to play, and sew--
The all-round girls know where to go--
--With the Y Girls!!

W E D N E S D A Y

C L U B D A Y

Don't you want to:

- Learn new songs, and maybe a trick or two
- Hear new stories, of what other girls do?
- Read of adventure, romance, and knowledge--
- (Your mother will think you're going to college!)
- New friends -- new things --
- Each girl herself, and another brings!
- We'll study and play, -- be wise, -- and gay --
- Don't forget now!

WEDNESDAY is CLUB DAY!!

The party - a celebration of it is, too.

and includes me at the district.

Reserve Alumnus Nation's Greatest Football Fan

Western Reserve University in recent years has won national recognition because of the unusually fine records of its football teams. It might also claim recognition for possessing an alumnus who is probably the nation's greatest football fan.

Dr. A. I. (Pin) Ludlow has been following football for fifty years. He saw his first Case-Reserve game in 1891 and the first game played between American football players and a team representing Japan when football was started in that country.

Although Dr. Ludlow attends most of the country's outstanding football contests such as Rose Bowl games, Army-Navy contests, and the Professional-All-Star games, his first love is Reserve. Now retired and living in Cleveland he attends every football practice and every game—traveling with the team on out-of-town jaunts.

He knows every player intimately and is a real friend to every one of them. Dr. Ludlow takes a great deal of pleasure out of doing friendly turns for the boys and they, in turn, love and respect him because of his interest in them and his enthusiasm for Western Reserve. As an expression of their liking they presented him with a football autographed by the entire team at last year's annual football banquet.

Dr. Ludlow was graduated from Adelbert College in '98 and completed his medical work at Reserve in '01. He practiced medicine and surgery in Cleveland for some years after that and followed the fortunes of the football teams until 1912 when he entered the field of medical missions in Korea. From 1912 to 1938 he was associated with Severance Union College in Seoul, Korea, being head of the department of surgery.

While abroad it was impossible for him to see many football contests but he followed the fortunes of Reserve teams closely and every Thanksgiving was sent a cable by some Reserve friends telling the score of the all-important battle between the Scientists and the Red Cats.

Football Schedule for 1939

Ten First-Year Men Show Promise

In spite of the loss of Al Litwak, Walter Reducha, Mike Rodak, Andy Saxon, and Johnny Andrews, five brilliant performers who graduated last June, a squad of twenty lettermen and ten good first-year prospects, who answered Coach William (Bill) Edwards' first call in the autumn, give promise of another good season.

The squad includes nine veteran backs—Johnny Ries, John Lucas, Steve Belichick, Dick Booth, Charles Griffiths, Jim Riley, George Wancata, Paul Anderson and Ford Davis, in addition to two very promising sophomores—Carmen Izzo and Mickey Sanzotta.

Four veteran ends, two tackles, four guards, and two centers are also on hand from last year's undefeated team.

Among the promising first-year men are Charles Redman of New Kensington, Pa., and Walter Stocksdales of New Philadelphia, Ohio—both guards. Dick Luther of John Adams in Cleveland, biggest man on the squad, together with two other sophomores should provide adequate replacements at tackle.

Coach Edwards is faced with the problem of getting his squad in shape for two difficult early assignments. On September 30 Reserve meets Dayton in Cleveland at League Park. Dayton broke the Red Cats' record-breaking string of victories in 1937. On the following Saturday the team jumps to Athens to play Ohio University which, after defeating the University of Illinois last year, gave Reserve one of its toughest games.

Adults Interested In "Doing Things"

Cleveland College of Western Reserve University enters upon three new ventures in adult education this year: an enlarged program of courses in adult "General Education;" a few "Foundation Review" courses; and a new program for training dental assistants.

Speaking of the new group of adult "General Education" courses, Director A. Caswell Ellis said: "While the Cleveland College faculty makes highly successful efforts to adjust the subject matter of regular standard college courses to the needs of adults, it has become clear that, in addition to the five thousand adults who take these courses each year with pleasure and profit, there are thousands of other intelligent adults whose interest in the present academic studies is not great enough to move them to study. They are interested in immediately practical present matters, in doing things, and only mildly in merely thinking about things. To attempt to force these practical minded adults into our present academic courses is almost as unreasonable and futile as was the medieval effort to force all college students into the study of Latin, Greek, mathematics, and philosophy.

"Cleveland College will continue to give and improve the standard academic college courses for those for whom they are suited, but will also now greatly expand its interesting program of so-called adult 'General Education' courses that deal more immediately with the current problems and interests of practical minded adults, courses that often center around a certain vital human need or interest, such as marriage or rearing children, rather than around some academic division of knowledge, such as psychology or hology."

"The new 'Foundation Review' courses have been added because it was found that many intelligent men and women were handicapped in their efforts at adult education because they either have never learned or have forgotten needed parts of important tool subjects, such as fundamentals of English grammar and composition, arithmetic, algebra, or the psychology of correct study habits. They can now get at an adult pace the rapid reviews in these tool subjects that they need. Their mature minds will enable them to secure these in a fraction of the time required for high school students."

Introducing THE TRUSTEES

Col. Frank A. Scott

Colonel Frank A. Scott, acting chairman of the Board of Trustees of Western Reserve University, was a ten-year-old Cleveland schoolboy when his father's death put him to work selling newspapers at 4 A.M., and as a Western Union messenger. Two years later he was a freight agent's office boy and at 21, freight-rate authority for the Chamber of Commerce, of which, from 1895 to 1899, he was secretary and treasurer. He held similar positions with the old Superior Savings and Trust Co. and was receiver for the Municipal Traction Co., 1908-09; then joined the Warner and Swasey Co., holding, there, many offices, including presidency and chairmanship until his resignation in 1927.

Throughout his industrious youth, Colonel Scott tutored with Professor John H. Dynes, of Western Reserve University, becoming a national authority on Civil War history.

Before 1917 he belonged to the Naval Consulting Board. In March, 1917, he became chairman of the General Munitions Board and in July, chairman of the War Industries Board, an office he held until the following October, when Secretary of War Newton D. Baker regretfully accepted his resignation on account of ill health.

Among his honors are the D.S.O. Medal of the United States, the Gold Medal of the Army Ordnance Association, and honorary LL.D. from Western Reserve. He holds and has held many important posts, including board memberships in the Bessemer Limestone and Cement Co., Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., Ohio Bell Telephone Co., Cleveland Trust Co., Lakeside Hospital, University Hospitals, Cleveland Humane Society, Case School of Applied Science, and Western Reserve Historical Society.

on account of physical handicap, or a full activity schedule.

Mental hygiene is a problem which in the last bleak year has filtered increasingly into the student group. For long it has been a diligently pursued, though unpublicized, interest of the Service. Recently a friend of the University who appreciates this made it possible for the staff of the Service to include a well-trained psychiatrist, whose work, carried on quietly because of occasional misunderstanding that still clings to conceptions of mental hygiene problems, is of inestimable value.

The Service keeps accurate, continuing records available for proper professional use. Needless to say, they are of service to the student's long-time doctor, still more to the new doctor he may consult. Through them a young alumnus procured, recently, a more favorable insurance rate, their several years' chronicle of his case proving he was actually a better risk than the Company's single examination seemed to show.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID—

President of National Student Federation of America: "I thoroughly endorse this plan and think it is serving a great benefit."

A Northern Dean: "A great plan to stimulate standards and ideals of student life."

Rhodes Scholar: "This movement is indeed helping students to secure added social recognition."

Personnel Manager for a corporation: "The business world is beginning to recognize this book and use it to benefit of both student and company."

President of Southern University: "The idea is splendid and has a definite place in our educational system."

Western Dean: "I think there is a real need for such a publication."

Office of National Honorary Organization: "For a student's biography to be included will be something for them to work for. It will serve as a wonderful recommendation."

President of Pacific Student President's Association: "The best plan I've ever seen to create more interest in extra-curricular activities."

Business Man: "Students listed in the book signify that they are leaders and are interested in public welfare. It is a splendid recommendation for them."

President of Eastern College: "I'm glad that there is one form of recognition for students which is void of politics and fees."

We have hundreds of other letters like these on file which will be furnished on request.

WHO'S WHO Among Students In American Universities and Colleges

University, Alabama

ENDORSEMENTS—

The idea of creating one national institution for students, devoid of politics and initiation fees so prevalent in many undergraduate organizations, was conceived over 3 years ago—thus WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES has come about. Since then, the editor has secured the endorsement of over 1000 presidents of student bodies, 500 deans, and 300 presidents of fraternities.

The plan has the unanimous endorsement of the Executive Committee of the National Student Federation of America, and the Southern intercollegiate Association of Student Government for Women. It also has the endorsement of a past President of the American Association of State Universities, the past National President of O D K and the Pacific Student President's Association.

Students and deans have expressed the fact that there is a place for such an annual among American universities and colleges, and that with the cooperation of all concerned, an institution with great possibilities can be created.

PLAN—

The plan is to publish annually a compilation of biographies of the outstanding students in America. In this way, deserving students will be brought before the business world, which annually recruits young men and women from college ranks. The venture is not mercenary. The Editor will furnish each student whose name appears in the annual a financial statement each year if they will ask for it. If finances permit, one copy of the year book is to be placed gratuitously in the General Library of each institution in which students are represented.

NUMBER OF STUDENTS TO BE SELECTED—

Freshmen and sophomores are not to be candidates for recommendation. Only juniors, seniors, and students in advanced work are selected. Indeed, the success and value of the book depend upon narrowness of selection. The Editor has received numerous suggestions from deans about arriving at the number of students to be nominated from each institution. The concensus appears to be that in no instance should more than one per cent of the student body be nominated, and that this percentage be distributed proportionally between male and female students. In institutions of large enrollment, the percentage should be even smaller.

PURPOSE—

WHO'S WHO will serve:

- (1) As an incentive for students to get most out of their college careers;
- (2) As a means of compensation to students for what they have already done;
- (3) As a recommendation to the business and social world;
- (4) As a standard of measurement for membership comparable to agencies as Phi Beta Kappa and the Rhodes Scholarship Award.

QUALITIES UPON WHICH STUDENTS ARE NOMINATED—

A condition for inclusion in WHO'S WHO should be judged by all the standards listed below—that is, the students should have a combination of these qualities to indicate that he is so outstanding that he is an asset to his school.

Character
Scholarship

Leadership in high standard of politics, athletics, and other forms of extra-curricular activities.

Possibility of future usefulness to business and society.

Samuel Hugh Moffett

Dear Folks:

It's hot today, but nowhere near so hot as it has been. This week was really rather cool, we can get along with two showers a day, and we can sleep in the room for a change. All the newly seeded grass on the campus is dead, though, in spite of the occasional showers. The sun was too much.

Only two more weeks of summer school. It's really going fast. Nothing much has happened this week, though. Just a lot of study, tennis and sleep. I didn't even have any dates, which is getting back to regular form. The only excitement has been a prank or two on the Floor here. About midnight Tuesday I woke up with a start -- out in the hall there were splitting pops and bangs, enough to shake the walls. I thought Chicago was finally living up to its name, then decided somebody had thrown some giant crackers through the transom, but at last discovered they were out in the hall in a tennis can. People heard them all over the campus. We finally tracked down the culprits -- Roberts and Sanderson. And then last night, the Tower bell suddenly rang at 12:30. The Tower was tightly locked, and no one was found near upon investigation. The mystery is still unsolved, but I'll bet it was somebody on the Floor.

Howie beat Howie Fischer yesterday in three sets. I think he could have done it all last year, if he had had a chance. But it will be nice to have the No. 1 position in the family. I'll have to see how close I can keep to him. In the second term summer tournament I got into the finals this week, beating Russ Phelps in a freak score 6-0, 9-7. It's funny how much you let down after winning an easy set; he was leading me 5-2 in the second before I snapped out of it. Howard has an easy match in the semifinals yet to play, so I beat him to the finals. In the doubles I lost Friday to Addison Sewell and Bill Hays. I had Eric Roon as a partner, and broke his glasses for him on my first serve -- we promptly lost the set 6-3. We rallied the second while he got used to playing without glasses, but lost anyway 9-7. Afterwards we challenged them to another set, and won 6-4. Howie and I weren't allowed to team up together -- we beat the two 6-0, 6-2, 6-2 without much trouble. By the way, Davis Cup finals between England and Australia begin today.

Friday afternoon Dayton, Adnan Heaton and I took time out to go swimming over at South Elgin. There's a nice quarry over there. I really haven't done much swimming this summer.

I bet you had a swell time messing around Sorai, Mutso. I'll never forget the time we came down early and opened up Roberts's cottage, enduring our own cooking. The only way we could stand Howard's vegetables was to drown them in showu or chang. Howie and I will be scattering before long. He may drop down to Montreat, North Carolina, on his way to North Dakota -- only a matter of a couple of thousand miles out of the way. I think I'll head straight, but I don't know yet how I'm going.

This morning I taught over at Mooseheart again. My class this morning was a good one, only about 8 fifteen-year-olds, and a quiet bunch. Usually you have to holler to keep any of them at all listening. It's pitiful the little they know of the Bible.

Archer Torrey was in town this morning. He's finished his Moody Bible Institute summer lecture course, and is heading back East tomorrow, but will [come] back to see his sister later in the summer. I think I told you last week that Caroline Dodd suddenly appeared not so long ago. It sure surprised me to see her walking in the library when I thought she was in China.

It's getting hotter, and I've got another letter to write to Charlie, so I'd better sign off. Incidentally, Howard needs stern parental reproof for going to Sunday dinner without his tie. Lack of self-control, I call it. He's not at all repentant for letting the heat get the better of his dignity or what there is left of it. Lots of love.

Finishing its second year of varsity competition with an undefeated season, Coach McKellin's veteran soccer squad regards its three victories more as preparation for next year's eastern trip than as a full soccer schedule. Under co-captains Dayton Roberts and Sam Moffett the team built up a watertight defense which allowed but two goals to leak through, and an aggressive offense that accounted for thirteen scores. Captain-elect Bill Kerr will lead the boaters east next fall.

First team to fall before Wheaton's accurate kicking was Mooseheart, 6-0. The junior squad had just annexed a Chicago high school championship but were no match for the more experienced college players. First score of the season was by Howard Moffett on a penalty, and Vickers followed with a corner kick headed through the uprights. The kick-and-run boys scored freely the second half as Coach McKellin threw in his reserves. Kerr dribbled in for a shot. Matsushige drove in a loose ball from a scramble for another. Howard Moffett won high scoring honors with another tally on a corner kick from Vickers, and two minutes from the end Don Moore completed the one-sided scoring with a 20-yard drive.

Just as one-sided was the second victory of the year, 5-1, against an over-rated semi-pro team, the Oak Park Acorns. The suburban team, which had recently flown to St. Louis and there had lost a game to the national champion Shamrocks, underrated Wheaton, and sent out their first string offense with a second string defense. The backs crumbled before the Orange and Blue attack, allowing five easy tumbles, as Howard Maffett kept his high scoring record. The publicized Oak Park offense failed to materialize, for the Acorn high-scorer was Wheaton's Scotty Hastings who pushed through the lone Oak Park score on a corner shot rebound.

Final victory of the season was scored with difficulty over the former national champions, the Swedish American Gym club of Rockford. Wheaton staved off a first half pounding attack and fought through in the second half, 2-1.

Wheaton footers bucked a heavy head wind in the discouraging first half during which the ball coromed four times off the cross-bar on shots hampered in by the Swedes. But with the wind behind them in the next frame the Crusaders scored twice in as many minutes. Ed McCausland took a pass from Vickers on his chest and shoved it through for the first goal, and before Rockford recovered Bruce Linton drove through another on an assist from McCausland.

Soccer at Wheaton presents an international aspect. On the squad are players from nine foreign countries: Scotland, Korea, Ireland, China, Japan, Iraq, India, Canada, Egypt. Pennsylvania has the largest American representation.

In preparation for the eastern trip scheduled for next fall in which Wheaton will meet Army, Johns Hopkins, Westchester State Teachers and perhaps the University of Pennsylvania, Coach McKellin put his squad through hard training in intensive spring practice.

Paul M. Avila Award

Paul Avila is certainly one of the great names in the history of Wheaton College soccer with scoring records and honors that rank him with the best players of the team's first 50 years.

Avila, a native of Springfield, Pennsylvania, played for the Crusaders in 1966, 1968 and 1969, earning first team all-conference honors all three seasons and honorable mention All-Midwest as a senior. He led the team in goals each year and still ranks third on the all time scoring list with 43 career tallies. He is the only Wheaton player to average over one goal per game in three different seasons and to have two four-goal games in his career.

Avila missed his sophomore season with a severe knee injury that threatened to end his playing career, but returned to form the following season with 14 goals. During Avila's three seasons, Wheaton won the Michigan-Indiana-Illinois Soccer Conference and NCAA Mid-East Regional each year, and had an overall record of 31-2-6.

After graduating in 1970, Avila began graduate studies at Trinity Seminary but was discovered to have cancer, and died on October 10, 1972.

In 1974, the Paul Avila Award was initiated to honor his memory and to give recognition each year to a Wheaton soccer player who through dedication, hard work and personal character, earns the respect of his teammates and coaches.

Although listed among the minor sports of Wheaton College, the Crusader soccer team, ably coached by Jim McKellin and captained by Bill Kerr, has proved itself to be one of the outstanding teams in Wheaton's athletics. Three home games were climaxed by an eastern trip made during the Thanksgiving holidays, in which the Wheaton booters met the powerful eastern teams of Army, Princeton, Westchester, St. John's and Oberlin. Plans have already been formulated for a similar, yet more extensive trip next season, when the team will be led by Captain-elect Parker Woolmington.

The much anticipated and spectacular eastern trip led fifteen local booters, accompanied by Coach McKellin, Manager Willie Marquette and Trainer "Doc" Cardiff, first to Westchester, Pennsylvania. Here, an ominous dark cloud appeared on the blue sky of Wheaton's hopes when shortly after arrival, Howard Moffett, outstanding player and high scorer, was taken to the hospital where an emergency appendicitis operation was performed. His services, previously a mainstay of the team, were greatly missed throughout the entire trip. Had he been able to play, the resulting scores might have been somewhat different.

Meeting the strong Westchester Teachers' team, the Crusaders failed to score but held their opponents to one goal. Just a few days previous the powerful Temple University squad had fallen before this same team, 3-0.

Princeton University, Eastern Intercollegiate champion, was host to the Wheaton squad next and emerged victorious with a two goal margin, 2-0. Walt MacMillan guarding the goal and Joe Schoonmaker led a fighting defense for the Crusaders, but feeling the loss of Moffett, were unable to accomplish much aggressively.

Entertained at West Point, the Crusaders left the field on the short end of a 4-1 score, but were praised for their outstanding play and were extended a cordial invitation to return next year. Captain Bill Kerr scored the lone Crusader tally.

Victory smiled at last upon McKellin's charges. Fighting to gain a 3-2 margin, the Orange downed St. John's University at Brooklyn. Dayton Roberts moved to center-forward in an attempt to fill in the vacancy left by Howard Moffett, Bill McLeister capably holding the Brown Bomber's defensive position.

Finding the essence of victory sweet, the soccerites traveled to Oberlin, Ohio, where in the final encounter they won a close 1-0 game over Oberlin College. Roberts accounted for the single goal.

Prior to the eastern trip the booters engaged in three local contests. Off to a good start they kicked their way to victory over the strong Baltic Athletic Association team of Rockford, Illinois, former national champions of the American Labor league. A tight defensive attack paved the way to a 2-1 victory for the Crusaders. Vickers scored the first tally for the Orange, followed by Howard Moffett's boot through the goal.

Close play and a close score featured the play of the next game when the Orangemen engaged the Mooseheart team on the latter's field and emerged on the long end of a 1-0 score. Howard brought his total goals to two by scoring late in the game after a fast run from the fifteen yard line. Mooseheart proved a scrappy opponent but at no time did they really threaten the Crusaders.

First defeat of the season came a short while later when, under night lights, the Orange and Blue bowed to a powerful Oak Park Acorn team, 4-2. It was the first game to be chalked up on the loss side of the Wheaton Booters' score book in two years. A beautiful kick by Howard Moffett accounted for the first Wheaton goal, the second coming in the last minutes of play when Captain Bill Kerr kicked the ball through the goal-posts. The local high school field under flood lights furnished the setting for the tilt.

TENNIS

Undeclared but tied once was the season's record after Wheaton's tennis team had sliced its way through ten matches last spring, marking the first schedule without defeat in the history of the school.

Bolstered by the addition of light-legged freshman Warren Kenr, the squad took nine victories, and veteran Howard Fischer marched into the finals of the state meet, the Moffett brothers being eliminated in the first round by the ultimate winners, Armour tied our racket-wielders in the only other match. The Crusaders later invaded the Tech court, returning with a 5-1 vindication. Previous to the state meet, Fischer had qualified by taking singles honors in the district tournament with the Moffett brothers easily annexing the doubles title.

Playing his slice game to near-perfection Howard Fischer did much to bring the season's victories to the highest in years. He captained the team last spring, his third year on the varsity, dropping only one match during the ten encounters.

From far off Korea come the Moffett brothers, Sam and Howard, to add their powerful drives and fast hard play. Pairing off in the doubles, the brothers, with their power and speed of play, drove each one of their opponents to defeat.

Off to a good start, the Orange and Blue traveled to Elmhurst and trounced the Buccaneers in the first play of the season, 6-0. Adding humiliation to defeat, they turned in a similar score when they played host to the same team a few weeks later.

An additional whitewashing was administered to Eureka on the home courts in the third battle of the season, when the Crusaders again made a clean sweep of all the matches. When the two opponents met again, Kent alone was defeated, giving Wheaton a 5-1 win.

George Williams succumbed easily to the Wheaton strokers on two occasions. The first ended 5-1. An early rain dampened the prospects of another such victory, for when play was halted, the Crusaders were leading 3-1.

Proving to be the most threatening foe, Armour Tech of Chicago marred an otherwise perfect record when they forced the Wheaton netters to a 3-3 tie. When next the battlefield was set, Armour was given its death blow, the Crusaders returning home with 5 victories against one defeat.

Twice, North Central, traditional foe, saw defeat. On both occasions the score was 5-1.

It was not until the final round of the state meet at Peoria that Captain Fischer was eliminated from the play. In the preliminary rounds his greatest low in any match was but two games.

Consistency, fair play, and teamwork proved great assets to the squad which turned in one of the most successful records in the field of athletics during the 1937 season. Versatility was also prominent with Fischer supplying the tantalizing cuts and spins, Kent the speed, and the brothers, Sam and Howard showing the drive and power.

Kent alone will be lost to the squad this coming season. Veteran Fischer will team with the Moffett brothers to once more carry the colors of the Orange and Blue.
